

Hello everyone!

I hope you have all had a lovely half term with your families and enjoyed playing with your toys and going for walks. I will be going for lots of walks with my dog and Mr White and hopefully enjoying some sunshine!

The ducks will be returning to school soon and then I will send you some photos of their new home!

I was thinking this week we could share the love on Tapestry and you could all draw or make a picture of a heart and hold it up and then we will share them with all of our friends. Make your picture and put a photograph of it on Tapestry by Friday for everyone to see.

Keep safe and I hope to see you all very soon!
